

"It is definitely essential for EIT ICT Labs to take advantage of the best research carried out in ICT. One way is to invite our best researchers and, in particular, ERC (European Research Council) laureates to offer their vision on the Future in their field. This is the basic idea behind the series of EIT ICT Labs Schools" called "Imagine the Future in ICT" we will organize. The first school took place in Paris from September 3rd to 7th 2012 on Data Management, a very active and promising topic at the forefront of the digital world of the future".

"Not only Research is key for our societal and economic development, we also need Innovation and innovators! This is the reason why we also invited entrepreneurs and innovators. They took the opportunity to describe in a very lively and concrete way their success stories... and their failures too!"

"This school was impressive by the working atmosphere, by the numerous and lively interactions between lecturers and participants, and also, in special sessions, between the participants themselves. A good memory to recall!!!!"

Professor Jean-Pierre Banâtre, Inria